WHAT'S THE STORY...

Sagittarius IP operate in the detail orientated World of Pharmaceutical patenting and product licensing

Having grown out of their dated and undersized workspace our client secured a bright top floor suite within the large Marlow International Business Park.

The requirements for the space were clear but having received some initial ideas and plans Sagittarius approached Blue Jelly for something with a little more creative invention and flair.

With a relatively low occupancy density and cellular office requirement there was a clear opportunity to engage flowing curves and detailing which tied in perfectly with the reinvention of their brand collateral.

The resulting office is spacious, welcoming, purposeful and most definitely professional in all regards as they host a growing group of International visitors and clients.

The project was carried out from inception to completion over the course of 3 months with a 6 week on-site build programme.
