

Social Media Policy

Let's Play recognises that many staff enjoy networking with friends and family via social media. However, we have to balance this against our duty to maintain the confidentiality of children and parents attending our sessions, as well as ensuring that our good reputation is upheld. Staff must remember that they are ambassadors for Let's Play, both within and outside of working hours and are expected to conduct themselves accordingly when using social media sites.

This policy covers (but is not limited to) social media platforms such as:

- Twitter
- Facebook
- YouTube
- Snapchat
- Tumblr
- Personal blogs & websites
- Comments posted on third party blogs or website online forums
- Instagram

Social Media Rules

When using social media sites, staff must not:

- Post anything that could damage the company's reputation.
- Post anything that could offend other members of staff, parents or children using Let's Play as a service
- Publish any photographs or materials that could identify the children or the session/club.
- Accept invitations from parents to connect via social media (e.g friend requests on Facebook) unless they already know the parent in a private capacity.
- Discuss with parents any issues relating to their child or Let's Play. Instead invite the parent to raise the issue when they are next at the club/session, or to contact a Director or line manager if the matter is more urgent.

Any member of staff who posts content or comments that breach confidentiality, or which could harm the reputation of Let's Play or other staff members, or who publishes photographs of the setting or children, will face disciplinary action in line with our Staff Disciplinary policy.

General cautions for using social media

When using social media in any context it is wise to bear in mind the following points:

- No information published via the internet is ever totally secure; if you don't want information to become public, do not post it online.
- Once an image or information is in the public domain, it is potentially there forever – Google never forgets!
